REMOVAL OF ECONOMIC PENALTIES.

Anglo-French Differences Settled.

London, September 29.
The raising of the economic sanctions means disappearance of the Customs barrier, which for six months has economically divided the occupied districts from the rest of Germany. The difficulties of the removal were explained in cables of the 15th and 19th inst.

Anglo-French differences on the subject of the method of checking Germany's issue of licences in order to prevent discrimination against Allied products was settled a week ago, and Allied and German exports will now meet to determine how control of the licences can be carried out by the Inter-Allied Commission.

[The message of the 16th inst. stated: On the ground that Germany has not fulfilled her obligations the French Foreign Office announces the continuance of the economic sanctions which the Supreme Council decided should be removed on Sept. 15th, subject to Germany meeting certain obligations.

A Berlin semi-official message of the same date declared that Germany has paid a milliard gold marks and also agreed in principle to the creation of an Inter-Allied organisation with the view to preventing unfair discrimination regarding import and export licences, thus meeting the Allies' demands. The whole trouble is due to the competence of this organisation, which France maintains should have full authority to dictate to Germany concerning all licences, whereas Reuter learns authoritatively that the London view seems to be that Germany would gain little from raising the sanctions in the event of the adoption of the French plan. Conversations are proceeding in London, Paris and C. I. n.

The message of the 19th inst. — It is authoritatively stated, and there seems every reason to believe, that the German Government intends loyally to accept the decision of the Supreme Council to establish the inter-Allied organisation mentioned on the 16th inst. It is at present undecided whether the organisation is merely to watch the issue of licences and to report any unfair discrimination towards the Allies, or shall be fully empowered to veto licences. British circles favour the former course. It is hoped that the question will shortly be settled and the economic sanctions removed.]

THE SOUTH WALES COAL DISPUTE.

Government Adheres to Interpretation, but Suggests Arbitration.

London, September 29.
A deputation of South Wales coalowners discussed the misunderstanding mentioned in the cable of the 27th inst. with the Mines Department, after which the latter made a statement adhering to their interpretation of the settlement, but intimating the Government's willingness to refer the question to the Chairman of the National Coal Board for decision.

[The previous message said: A serious position has arisen in the South Wales coalfield owing to a misinterpretation of the settlement of the last coal strike, the Mines Department requiring the owners to contribute a further 10s. per ton, amounting to £750,000, towards wages. The owners expected the sum to be provided from the Government subsidy of £10,000,000, of which £3,000,000, remain. After a hurried meeting at the Cardiff Coal Exchange the owners decided to close a large number of collieries. If the decision is carried out the unemployment situation in South Wales will be seriously aggravated.]

STOWAWAYS.

A Heavier Sentence.

Two negroes and seven Filipinos who stowed away on the Hawkeye State at Manila and were discovered on the trip to Hongkong were this morning charged before the Magistrate, Mr. G. N. O'Connell, at the instance of the Admiral Line, Agents for the liner.

The defendants pleaded guilty. The Inspector Spear who prosecuted, said that he had been instructed by the American Consul General to ask the Magistrate to make the case an exemplary one in view of the frequency of these offences and the heavy expenses entailed on shipping companies in having to provide a passage return for the stowaways.

His Worship suggested that there might have been some collusion between the defendants in the present case and some persons connected with the ship.

The Inspector replied that that was hardly so, since in a spacious stateroom like the Hawkeye State it was conceivable that the men could make their presence less noticeable by mixing up with the steerage passengers.

His Worship asked if it were not a more satisfactory arrangement from the point of view of the steamship companies to send back the stowaways to their port of embarkation to be dealt with by the authorities there. The publicist immediately thus secured would be very effective as a deterrent for would-be offenders.

The Inspector agreed but added that this measure had not been asked for in the present case.

Sentence of six weeks' hard labour was passed on each of the defendants.

COMPANY MEETING.

Douglas S.S. Co. Ltd.

The depressed state of the Eastern charter market was given expression to at the annual general meeting of the Douglas Steamship Company held at the offices of the Company to-day afternoon. There were present Mr. H. P. White (Chairman); Messrs. D.G.M. Bernard and A. O. Lang (Members of the Consulting Committee); Mr. J. E. Games (Secretary); and the following shareholders:—Messrs. H. R. B. Hancock, F. J. Gill, Chun Tong and Chun King Yue.

The Secretary read the notice convening the meeting and the Chairman then said:—Gentlemen.—The report and accounts having been in your hands for some time, I will with your permission take them and the report of the auditors' as read.

I regret that we are not able to lay before you a more favourable statement, but our trade has suffered in common with the general and universal collapse in shipping business; and the depressed state of the Eastern charter market has tended to increase the number of steamers competing on the coast with the regular lines; while the sudden and sensational increase of $5. per ton in the price of liquid fuel referred to in the report was responsible for a heavy addition to the running expenses of "Haiching" necessitating the re-conversion of her furnaces for the use of Coal.—But for this additional expense, the result of the year's working would have made a much better showing.

"Haiching" has undergone extensive alterations to her boilers and furnaces during the year, which have resulted in a very marked reduction in her coal consumption. While China is still in such an unsettled political condition or until general trade improves, it is difficult to regard prospects for the future with anything approaching optimism, but it may interest you to know that the steamers engaged on our regular line are earning their fair proportion of the freight that is offering and that there is a probability of an appreciable curtailment of working expenses during the year. I trust the proposed distribution of profits and the transfer of a sum from the Reserve Fund to cover the cost of special repairs, that do not rightly come under the heading of ordinary upkeep will meet with your approval, and after the adoption of the report and accounts has been proposed and seconded, I shall be pleased to answer any questions that shareholders may wish to ask. I propose that the report and accounts as presented be adopted.

Seconded by Mr. H.R.B. Hancock, the motion was carried unanimously.

It was proposed by Mr. Chun Tong and seconded by Mr. Chun King Yue that Messrs. D.G.M. Bernard, W.E. Clarke and A. O. Lang be re-elected as Members of the Consulting Committee for the ensuing year. Carried.

The resolution that Messrs. A.R. Lowe and C. Bernard Brown be re-elected as Auditors for the ensuing year at a remuneration of $500 each per annum was carried nem. con. on being moved by Mr. H. R. B. Hancock and seconded by Mr. Chun Tong.

The Chairman: That concludes the business of the meeting gentlemen, and I thank you for your attendance. Dividend warrants are now ready and may be had on application.

STEAMERS COLLIDE.

Golden State Struck by Nagano Maru.

Caught by the swirling mist in the Narrows of the Island Sea, the Nagano Maru, a Japanese steamer, was carried down on the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's "SS" Golden State, which arrived at Hongkong this morning. No serious damage was caused the American ship and the Japanese vessel was unscathed by contact with the Shipping Board vessel.

Passengers and officers on the Golden State spoke in loud praise this morning of the skilful way in which the master of the Nagano Maru handled his vessel after the current had suddenly swung her on to the starboard side of their vessel and attribute to him the prevention of what, undoubtedly, would have been a very serious collision. Both vessels were about to enter The Narrows, sea-surgeons said in explaining the accident, and the Golden State was a little ahead of the Japanese ship on that vessel's port side. About fifty yards separated the two ships when the Nagano Maru was caught by the treacherous tide and was coming rapidly towards the State ship before her plight was noticed.

The Golden State was near the south bank and could manoeuvre her position very little without endangering herself still further. The Japanese master quickly regained control of his vessel and she struck the Golden State with a slanting blow, the bow of the Nagano Maru denting slightly a few feet of plating amidships level with the main deck. She was brought off the Golden State by a smart display of seamanship, and steamed ahead without doing serious damage.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Hongkong Society Reports Progress.

A general meeting of members of the Hongkong Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was held at the Helena May Institute yesterday afternoon and was attended by a large gathering including a number of the Chinese community. His Honour Mr. H. H. J. Compertz presided. Among those present were the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Pollock, the Hon. Mr. S. B. C. Ross, Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak, Hon. Mr. Ho Fook, Mr. B. L. Frost and Miss Frost, Mr. J. L. McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Kotewall and Mr. A. W. van Andel, Mr. Quarles and Mr. F. A. Joseph.

The Chairman said that as the notice would inform the members the meeting was held for two reasons, i.e. to pass the Rules of the Society and to report progress because the last meeting of the Society was held in June and there was no doubt that members were anxious to hear what the officials had been doing all this time. At the last meeting the Hon. Mr. A. G. Stephens was elected as Hon. Treasurer, but as he was too busy Mr. Stephen suggested Mr. Ramsay, of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, to take his place.

A Great "Boost."

The Chairman then read a statement written by Mr. Ramsay which indicated that the Society had now 300 members and that the subscriptions and donations amounted to $2,238 and the cash in hand amounted to $2,150. The members would no doubt think not unreasonable, that that was not a good record for four months' work, but the fact was that they were going to start a great "boost" very soon and if they did not get a lot of money it would be their own fault because there was plenty of funds in the hands of people who agreed with the objects of the Society. The Chairman then said the Rules of the Society were quite short, though they were a little longer than those in Shanghai, because they had to go into more details.

Commenting on Rule 2 which states "The word 'animal' includes birds," the Chairman jocularly remarked that he thought it better to eliminate "Fishes" and "Reptiles" from the classification as one did not know much about them (Laughter).

The Chairman suggested that in future children who wished to become Associates of the Society should pay $1 instead of 25 cents to the Hon. Treasurer who would send each of them a badge. Mr. Ramsay considered that there would be unremitting trouble in collecting 25 cents, signing receipts, etc. The Society would provide the badge which would cost $1. The Committee had been considering the design of the badge, in respect of which Mr. Bird had kindly prepared a sketch. The badge would be enamel-framed with a pin at the back. The alteration was proposed by the Chairman and seconded by Mr. Frost and unanimously approved.

One of those present suggested that the Society should prescribe an age limit with regard to children. The Chairman said that children could only be Associates. If it was a "child" of 45 they should certainly ask for $2 subscription fee.

Rules Adopted.

On the proposal of the Chairman which was seconded by the Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak, the Rules were adopted unanimously. It was announced by the Chairman that H.E. the Governor and the Hon. Dr. Claud Severn, C.M.G., who at the last meeting were elected President and Vice-President of the Society felt that in their positions, it would be difficult to assume executive offices in the Society for they would have to preside at meetings. They therefore preferred others to take up the positions. However, H.E. the Governor, Lady Stubbs and the Hon. Dr. Claud Severn had consented to become patrons. As there were vacancies the Committee elected him (Mr. Compertz) as President and Mr. Frost as Vice-President. The duties of Mr. Frost as Secretary would be assumed by his daughter Miss D. E.

Frost who would carry on, at any rate, until the annual meeting in November when the re-election of office-bearers would take place. As stated before, Mr. Ramsay would act as Treasurer for the Hon. Mr. Stephen.

The Hon. Dr. Severn, said the Chairman, had given them excellent advice in various ways and served as Chairman of the committee which had drawn up the Rules. A number of sub-committees had been formed, including a Propaganda Committee consisting of the Hon. Mr. Ross, President, and several others. This committee had done most excellent work. The Society would like to get in touch with poultry and cattle dealers in the markets. Forty poultry and cattle dealers of the Central Market had already joined the Society and were pledged to do their utmost in educating their employees as to how to handle poultry and cattle properly. With the assistance of this committee the Society hoped to circulate leaflets, printed in simple words, among poultry dealers pointing out how easy it would be to avoid unnecessary suffering to poultry and cattle.

A Law Committee.

There was also a Law Committee, on whose recommendation the Society had written to the Government on various points. A section based on the Ordinance of 1845 which was thought to be better and more useful in the Colony had been drafted and sent to the Government. The Society had also asked for bye-laws to be framed to protect birds, to avoid overcrowding and to put matting in crates in which pigs were carried. The Government had also been requested to make it compulsory that pigs with broken legs should be conveyed to the slaughter house on trucks. The Dogs' Home, continued the Chairman, had been visited by many of them, some of them very many times, and they found that great improvement could be made with little expense. A sub-committee, consisting of the Hon. Mr. S. B. C. Ross, Mr. Pollock and Dr. Pearce, had been appointed with regard to improving the Dogs' Home and a report was expected soon. The Government, said the Chairman, was quite willing to hand over the Dogs' Home to the management of the Society, but the question was whether the Home should be run entirely by the Society or put under the joint administration of the Government and the Society. A new Dogs' Home had to be built soon owing to the recent sale of a piece of land at North Point which would entail the loss of the present Home. Another request made to the Government was to amend the Wild Birds' Act which had done so much good in increasing wild birds, the nests of which would have to be protected.

Members would be informed when a reply to the Society's recommendations was received. In order to raise funds Lady Stubbs had kindly offered the grounds of Government House to be used as the venue of a fête at the end of December. Lady Stubbs was throwing her heart and soul into the scheme, added Mr. Compertz.

A letter received from Mr. Mowbray Northcote, of the old Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was read by the Chairman. It stated that a sum of $480 left by the old society was available to the new Society. It was stated by several members that that amount had been drawn from the Mercantile Bank and added to the Society's fund.

The Hon. Mr. Ross suggested that the forty members of the Society who belonged to the Central Market should be each supplied with a badge. Servants of members of the Society should be instructed to deal only with bearers of badges and he hoped that by this means more poultry and cattle dealers would have to join the society in the interest of their business.

The Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak supported Mr. Ross's suggestion which he believed would induce many stallholders to become members. Mr. Lau Chu-pak suggested that two poultry stallholders be added to the Propaganda Committee.

The Hon. Mr. Pollock suggested that advertisements be published in the newspapers, informing the public of the existence of the Dogs' Home, where it was located and that dogs could be bought from the Home. He understood the price was $3 each. Another reason why he advocated the publication of such advertisements was because, in a good many cases, dogs strayed from their homes, and bearing nothing to indicate who were their owners, were caught by the police and taken to the Dogs' Home. If the owners knew where the Home was they could go there and claim their dogs.

Mrs. Pollock said half of the population in the Colony did not know the Dogs' Home. It was a good thing to tell the public that they could buy dogs from the Dogs' Home because if the dogs were to remain at the Home they would be shot.

The Chairman concurred with Mr. and Mrs. Pollock. When he visited the Dogs' Home, he was astonished to find a large number of decent dogs there. They would not live in the Home long owing to lack of exercise and the poor food served to them. He would put both Mr. Pollock's and Mr. Ross's suggestions into execution. "I shall say when I meet everybody next month, 'Good morning have you seen the Dogs' Home?'" added the Chairman. (Laughter.)

It was decided to include the names of the G.O.C. H.E. Lt. Gen. Kirkpatrick and the Senior Naval Officer among the patrons.

On the proposal of the Hon. Mr. Pollock a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Justice Compertz for presiding at the meeting.

WORST THEATRE SUMMER

FOR MANY YEARS.

This summer has been the worst I can remember for the theatrical profession," said the secretary of the Actors' Association to a Press representative.

A month ago we had a third of our members out of work. Slump in trade, and consequent want of money among all sections of the population, has been the chief cause.

When employment is hard to obtain and no profits are being made, the first thing people economise in is amusements.

We have a floating population in London, which is not so much affected by this; but in the provinces it is felt severely, and affects all the touring companies.

Then, again, there has been the hot weather. Who would care to sit in a theatre during some of the nights we have had?

I am glad to say that things have taken a turn. The London theatres are now doing good business, and companies are being booked for the autumn season.

Many managers have kept their companies going, through the summer at a loss, in order to hold them together."

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1921.

INTERNATIONAL SUPERVISION OF CHINA.

Students of Chinese affairs probably read with interest the communication which we published yesterday from "A True Friend of China." It contains proposals for aid to China upon the general principle credited to Mr. Hoover, and openly advocated by Mr. Bland as the one means of China's salvation—viz. international administration. Our correspondent makes suggestions of his own regarding the lines along which the system should be worked, and these deserve notice. Whether he is quite equitable in saddling Young China with all the responsibility for the deplorable situation may be open to question. For instance, to go no farther, there is his Mightiness Chang Tso-lin, who has such a big voice in China's destinies, and who can scarcely be regarded as a representative of Young China. Nor could Wang Chan-yuan, who has retired to Pientsin with a hoard variously estimated at from seven million dollars to something like seventy millions. There can be no sort of doubt, however, about the existence of the problem, whether due chiefly to Young China, or whether regarded as largely a heritage from the old officialdom.

No one can well question our correspondent's assertion that political factions have prevented unity, and that the country is on the verge of bankruptcy. When a Government has to hawk its postage-stamps at a discount in order to raise the wind, it may be described as already insolvent. Fortunately, China's bankruptcy is only in relation to its present political system—meaning, of course, lack of system. The country's potential assets are more than ample to pay twenty shillings in the pound. Is there any token of reform on the part of the officials? Announcements there are without number, and we would find believe that the Chinese Government really means to turn over a new leaf; but who can say that he has any confidence of such? Besides, given the will, it is questionable whether the Government could effect a radical reform, clogged as it is with military affiliations. Formerly, foreign intervention, even when highly beneficent, was anathema to the Chinese mind. The Imperial Maritime Customs evoked neither pride nor gratitude. From the official classes at least Sir Robert Hart experienced chiefly obstruction. That did not prevent the Customs and later the Gabelle from being conspicuously successful. To-day it may be that the large mercantile class, tired-out with a succession of Governments tarred with the same brush, would not unwillingly acquiesce in, if they did not acclaim, international supervision, it being made abundantly plain that the supervisors came not as conquerors and self-seekers, but as co-operators and guides.

"A True Friend of China" recommends that each of the Great Powers exercise supervision over one of the chief Chinese Government departments, every Power at the same time to be represented in each department, so that all nations would know the state of progress. This is presumably with a view to minimising international jealousies, which have been notoriously rife in the past, and unless the Powers can sink this failing their claim to exercise tutelage would wear a dubious aspect, albeit no international administration could well fail to be a great improvement upon the present regime. Despite a rift in the lute here and there, signs are forthcoming that the Powers are to-day more disposed towards harmonious effort. The proposed system of supervision naturally requires further consideration, but our correspondent's suggestion was worth the making. That the appointment of Chinese officials should be subject to international approval is a natural corollary. The provisions for the payment of the provincial revenues into a central bank and for the restriction of the Army are matters of primary importance, while the sixth of "A True Friend of China's" proposals evidently looks to the abolition of that long-standing hindrance, li-tin, which, despite promises and the alleged appointment lately of an investigating delegation, Peking shows no sign of handling in a workmanlike manner. It is no light subject to talk of foreign supervision of an extensive Power, and the situation is further complicated by the division between North and South; but unless China can speedily formulate a practical scheme of her own it is at least a possibility that intervention will become inevitable for China's own preservation.

NOTES & COMMENTS.

A Worthy Swimmer.

Although it is rather early to speak of the Interport Swimming events in the light of records the fact must have impressed everybody that the time put up by Johnstone in Wednesday evening's 880 yards swim was indeed creditable. To cover half a mile in 13 min. 37.25 secs. is to qualify for a place among the fastest of the world's swimmers. According to the records available to us at the time of writing the fastest time in which this distance has been covered is 11 min. 11.35 secs., this being put up by the celebrated Australian swimmer Kieran who was swimming in a comparatively short bath and who had the advantage of very many turns. The English record is held by H. Taylor who covered the distance in open water in the really splendid time of 11 min. 35.25 secs. Both these men are of world wide reputation, and it is interesting to note that the English championship time of last year was 14 min. 31.43—a time which Johnstone very easily eclipsed the other evening. At the Far Eastern Olympiad held last year the best time in the open international championship swimmer Haneda, the stop watch recording 13 min. 11.15 secs. Johnstone's time is all the more noteworthy seeing that in the concluding laps of the race he was not in the least bit challenged and had no pacing with which to contend. It is safe to assume from the fresh manner in which he finished, that his time could easily have been improved upon. The above facts go to prove that Hongkong possesses a swimmer of more than local merit who should, with training and a better study of the art of quick turning, go far towards attaining a much wider reputation. In view of Wednesday's performance it will be interesting to note the times recorded this week in the 440 yds. and other distance races.

The Stowaway Problem.

The problem of dealing with Filipino stowaways here is becoming acute. On almost every big boat arriving here from Manila there are one or two of these undesirable and the case of eleven men found on board the Hawkeye State when that vessel came into port yesterday morning has raised the subject to one of some feeling on the part of the local shipping companies. Some time ago the American Consul General here addressed a strong letter of protest to the Insular Government on the matter, saying that the expenses he had incurred in connection with the return of stowaways should be reimbursed to him by the Philippine authorities, and also urging at the same time greater care in the prevention of stowaways at that end. Nothing much seems to have been done, and local American shippers feel it is time that the penalties inflicted by our local magistrates should be increased. The present short terms of imprisonment and the subsequent return of the men has not proved salutary enough and shippers consider that our local magistrates should impose something more likely to be a deterrent or, if they have not the power, seek the powers necessary. We cannot help thinking that the Manila authorities could help a great deal more than they are at present doing.

Germany's Task.

The raising of the economic sanctions in Germany to-day owing to that country having accepted the conditions regarding the establishment of the Inter-Allied Control of the Rhine frontier should do more than a little to assist the rise of Germany's economic tide. The Germans have long been complaining that the terms of the economic penalties are too harsh to permit her to fulfil her other obligations and there have been those among the Allies who have held a similar view. One can easily understand a German boycott of French goods, partly on political grounds but more on economic grounds seeing that the Mark has slumped in value to a point where to buy the goods of any outside nation is to pay an exceedingly dear price for them. Berlin newspapers agree in describing the slump as "catastrophic" and, in view of the great necessity and desirability of seeing industrial Europe back in a state of solidarity there will be few to disagree with them. For our own part we are inclined to think that so long as Germany keeps to her bond

To-morrow we intend publishing the following photographs in our Pictorial Page—Snaps taken at the Garrison Tennis Finals; The new Bank of East Asia together with a group of the Bank's Staff; group photographs of the 7th Hongkong troop of Boy Scouts, and the Stalker—Short wedding.

For the theft of a rattan basket containing various articles of clothing and jewellery, a Chinese, who had spent eighteen months in jail during the last two years, was this morning sentenced by the Magistrate to undergo six months' imprisonment with four hours' stocks.

Commotion in the steerage quarters of the steamer Golden State, shortly after her arrival in port this morning from San Francisco, was caused by a Chinese youth from the shore being caught in the act of robbing the belongings of an old Chinese passenger. It is alleged that the Hongkong youth stole $450 gold from the returning man's possessions and was seen by a friend of the man whose possessions he was ransacking. A hue and cry was raised and the thief was badly treated by the Chinese present until he was saved from injury by a quarter-master of the vessel who pulled the thief from his attackers.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the "Hongkong Telegraph."

The Macao Affair.

Sir,—Happening to glance over the letter of "Old Portugal" published in your issue of the 28th, I notice that he describes the Chinese as scoundrels. This is entirely unfounded and unwarranted, and such an estimation of the Chinese can only be made by one who is wholly in the dark as regards the history of the Chinese people. There might be the possibility of the statement being made on the impulse of the moment; through the unreasonable hatred and unrestrained passion of the person, who, for convenience sake, let me call him a gentleman. If that be true, he must have now regretted such an utterance. Whatever motive he might have in making this accusation against—say, in insulting without the least cause—a people from whom he more or less draws his necessities of life, yet there is no denying the fact that what he says is quite astounding and incredible. I rather fancy that before the first foreigner set foot on Chinese soil that even thousands of years ago when the Portuguese were not even known to exist, or if they were, when they were leading lives like the ancient Britons, the Chinese were as civilized as any European nation at the present moment. Immorality was not known in China until foreigners set foot therein. This is clearly proved by the fact that in the interior of China immorality does not exist. The Portuguese were evidently the first foreigners to land in China judging by the length of their occupation of Macao, and the gentleman will do well to always place before him the proverb: "Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones." Thanking you for the space you kindly afford this letter,

Yours, etc.

RUBBER CASE JUDGMENT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Singapore, Sept. 30. In a rubber case judgment the Chief Justice has found that the Association was not justified in suspending the plaintiffs (Messrs. Goodalls), who were therefore entitled to the declaration of injunction claimed. His Lordship awarded nominal damages of five dollars, holding that the plaintiffs had not proved loss through the suspension, which was only for a few days during the Christmas holiday when no business was done prior to the interim injunction.

INTERPORT SWIMMING.

Hongkong Again Successful.

Some good sport was witnessed at the V.R.C. bath yesterday afternoon. That there is a great interest taken in swimming in the Colony was proved by the large and enthusiastic crowd that was present. The two interport events were the 220 yards and the long plunge and these were followed with much excitement and cheering. The local events were keenly contested and some of the younger competitors showed that there is plenty of good stuff in Hongkong for future interports. The arrangements were excellent and everything went off without a hitch.

Siemssen and Brodie represented Shanghai in the 220 yards and Johnstone and Laing swam for Hongkong. For the first length the four swam neck and neck, but after the turn Brodie was seen to have dropped a little way behind. With the other three there was not much in it for the remainder of the race. It was practically neck and neck all the way through, but sometimes Johnstone would be a few feet ahead and sometimes the Shanghai champion, Siemssen, would be a little in the lead. The followers of both ports cheered and shouted at their men to encourage them on to victory and the noise was almost deafening. It was impossible to say which of the two cracks, Siemssen or Johnstone, would win, but the former succeeded in touching the rope that marked the end of the course first, gaining a victory for Shanghai. The times were E.A.T. Siemssen 2.40 and J.R. Johnstone 2.41½. It may be mentioned that the English record time for this event is 2.24 2/5.

The long plunge resulted in an easy win for Hongkong. M.A.R. Souza was first, with a distance of 62 feet 10½ ins., L.C.R. Souza came second, with 59 ft. 4 ins., and a Hongkong man, J. Soares, also came in third. The best distance put up by Shanghai was made by R. W. MacCabe, who came fourth with 57 ft. 4 ins. The world's long plunge record, it is interesting to note, is 83 ft. 7 ins., which was put up by an Englishman named Taylor.

The results were as follows:—Interport Points to Date:—Hongkong 14, Shanghai 6.

Two Lengths Hurdle Handicap (members).—Heat winners: J.R. Soares, J.V. Ramsay, G. A. V. Hall and W. Gerrard.

Blue Funnel Launches New Steamer.

Launching of another new passenger and cargo steamer for the Blue Funnel Line took place at the Hebburn yard of Palmers' Shipbuilding and Iron Co., last month, according to particulars of the vessel received by Messrs. Butterfield and Swire by the Sardinia's mail. The vessel is the Meriones, designed to carry about 10,000 tons deadweight, and will be added to the fleet of the Ocean Steamship Co.'s share of the Blue Funnel Line.

The principal dimensions of the steamer are as follows:—Length overall, 476ft. 6ins.; breadth 58ft.; depth to upper deck, 35ft. 3in. The vessel is of the two-deck type, having poop, bridge and forecastle. The engineers are berthed in a dockhouse on the bridge deck, the officers' and captain's accommodation being in a house over, while the seamen and firemen have quarters in the poop; accommodation can be provided for a limited number of passengers in the 'tween deck space and forecastle. The vessel has in all six cargo holds, one of which is insulated for carrying perishable cargo, and built pillars and side girders are fitted so that clear holds are obtained for the shipment of heavy cargo. Special attention has been given to the derrick arrangement for the rapid handling of cargo. The cellular double bottom all forward and aft is fitted for the carriage of either water ballast or oil fuel.

The vessel is to be fitted with single screw double reduction geared turbines of Parsons's impulse re-action type steam being supplied by two double-ended boilers, fitted with Schmidt's superheaters and Howden's system of forced draught. An auxiliary single-ended natural draught boiler is also fitted, the working pressure being 220lbs. per square inch.

Golden State Sets Records For "538 1/2."

Records for the fastest time across the Pacific from San Francisco to Hongkong, via Manila, and for the largest passenger and freight business of any of the new Shipping Board steamers was claimed by officers of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Golden State upon arrival of the vessel at Hongkong this morning from the Californian port.

A cargo of 8,000 tons for Far Eastern ports and a passenger list of 184 cabin and 608 steerage was taken out of San Francisco this voyage by the Golden State and it was said to be the best that have left the Golden Gate on any of the big State ships. From the time of casting off the lines at the dock at San Francisco to the time of making fast to her buoy here, the log shows that 27 days, 10 hours and 21 minutes elapsed. Deducting detention in ports of call the actual steaming time is given as 20 days 1 hour and 11 minutes, making it was said on the vessel, a record for the new government steamers operated by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company.

Ships papers prepared for entry at Hongkong show that the Golden State brought in a total of 722 passengers, of whom 63 were cabin and 659 steerage. The figures for those landing at Hongkong are 41 cabin and 355 steerage passengers. Passing through there are 300 Filipino labourers for plantations in the Hawaiian Islands.

Cargo for Hongkong amounts to 723 tons. A like tonnage is destined for San Francisco and wayports. A mail of 41 bags was landed here.

Shipments of treasure for Hongkong banks include 262 bars of silver bullion and four boxes of United States gold coin.

Missionary workers landed in strong force at Shanghai from Golden State, there being 80 of them on the present voyage of the vessel from San Francisco. Several of them disembarked at Hongkong.

There is no need of repairs to the Golden State.

Dr. G. W. McKean, of Hongkong, returned to the Colony from San Francisco.

Mr. R. Moore, of the Cooper Coal and Casing Drygoods Company, of Los Angeles, who is on a business trip to the Far East arrived here from Shanghai. He is accompanied by Mrs. Moore.

Judge Fisher, of the Supreme Court of the Philippine Islands, is a passenger for San Francisco with his wife, Mrs. F. C. Fisher.

Mr. T. J. Carroll is no longer purser of the Golden State, he having resigned last voyage to engage in farming pursuits in California. He is following the "back to the land" movement and has purchased a ranch of his own in the "Golden State." Mr. F. M. Raff, has taken over the duties of purser and with him as freight clerk is Mr. Edward K. Howard, who was assistant agent of the Pacific Mail Company at Singapore, until poor health necessitated a change of climate.

Delayed for Repairs.

A new piston is being cast for the steamer Tatsuno Maru to replace the one that fractured in the starboard engine of the vessel while she was bound to Hongkong from Japan this week. The Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company is doing the work and it is expected that the casting will be made and the repairing of the ship completed sometime tomorrow. The Tatsuno Maru will resume her voyage to Bombay on Saturday morning, if the job be finished in time.

Passes Examination.

Mr. Isaac Evans, of the Admiralty supply ship Khaki, this morning passed the examination for first mate of steamships.

TO-DAY'S MISCELLANY.

The Northern Railway of France, which has erected at its Paris terminus a notable memorial to its employees killed in the war, was built by British workmen, and nearly all its engine-drivers were for many years of the same nationality. A reminiscence of these pioneers, who naturally followed the rules they had learned in England and taught them to their successors, is conveyed by the fact that, while the general rule of the road in France is to take one's right, traffic on the railways runs to the left, as in England. Sir Edward Blount, founder of the Paris banking firm Blount, Pere et Fils, played a big part in the promotion of the Nord Railway, and subsequently of the Western system, and served as chairman of the latter line for thirty years. In 1894 a discussion took place in the Chamber of Deputies on the desirability of his holding such a post. It was pointed out that railway was closely associated with the Ministry of War in the movements of the army, and thus the chairman, although a foreigner, would know something of French mobilisation plans. Sir Edward promptly resigned, and though his co-directors showed their sense of his loyalty to France by unanimously re-electing him he declined to resume office.

THE BOOKSHELF.

(By "Librarian.")

SEVENTEENTH-CENTURY VERSE.

Mr. G. Thorn-Drury is an enthusiastic collector of literary products and by-products. He has now assembled what he entitles "A Little Art, Containing Sundry Pieces of Seventeenth-Century Verse" (7. 6d.), and in the Messrs. Dobell, a family devoted to the bard, he has sympathetic publishers. The seventeenth century gave us Shakespeare's mature work and all Milton's. Nothing to rank with these masters is here brought to light. What Mr. Thorn-Drury has done is to put together, from his collection of manuscripts and rarer broadside-poems of the seventeenth century, a most delightful book for those who have corners in their hearts both for the unrecorded smaller pieces of well-known poets and for the curiosities of literature. He has not found for us, and does not claim to have done so, anything of great literary beauty; nothing in this book is likely to find its way into the standard anthologies of the future. But he has, among his finds, several things which will now have to be included in collected editions of Ben Jonson, Edmund Waller, James Shirley, and other poets of importance. Jonson and Waller, at any rate, are big enough writers for us to treasure anything from their pens. The former is here represented by what seems to be a first draft of the "Preludium" to the epoch in "Love's Martyr"; it is fair, workmanlike verse, but nothing more. By Waller there are some previously unknown lines on the marriage of Sir John Denham, the poet of "Cooper's Hill"; unfortunately these, too, are a literary disappointment, though they are of some historical interest, for the greatest and most delicate of English Court poets has merely chosen to treat the subject as an occasion for some halting, metrical scandal-mongering. There are, however, some better things among the anonymous poems, which are chiefly elegies, though even here most of the verse is mere oddity—not that we should for a moment wish to be thought to disparage the collection of poetical oddities. From rare, often unique, broadsides Mr. Thorn-Drury has printed elegies upon Katherine Philips ("The Matchless Orinda"), Sir William Davenant; Dr. Robert Will (author of the once-popular "Iter Boreale"); Aphra Behn; Charles Hart (an actor who is by some thought to have been Shakespeare's great-nephew); and others. There are sparks of real poetry scattered here and there in several of these, but the best thing in this book is "An Elegy in Commemoration of Madam Ellenor Gwynn, who Departed this Life on the 14th of November, Anno. Dom. 1687," which contains a pleasing tribute to her kind heart and charity to the poor. Moreover, some of the lines, though they halt somewhat, have considerable feeling and beauty.

Speak, then, my Muse, and Speak in such a Strain, As may fit Audience from the World obtain. Tell that a Glorious Beauty is withdrawn To Silent Seats of Everlasting Dawn, Cropt like a Gay Flower by some Rude Hand, Or like a Blossom by the North Winds Fand.

Such verse is not great poetry, but it is not without inspiration. This book is agreeably produced, and the Nell Gwynn Elegy is given in reduced facsimile as a frontispiece. The edition is limited to four hundred copies.

In the book of her first political pilgrimage, Mrs. Philip Snowden related her experience in Bolshevik Russia. In second volume, "A Political Pilgrim in Europe" (Cassell), she relates her wanderings in Europe since the armistice "with no other purpose in view," we read, "than to do what one person might do, or at least attempt to restore good feeling between the nations and the normal course of life as quickly as possible." Mrs. Snowden's narrative is written with humour, toleration, and a sincerity rare in these galaxy-show days. It gives a very human account of Socialist and other conferences, and many interesting pen-pictures of people working along the lines of greatest resistance.

by "B.B." What he does in the castle and the object he wishes to achieve must be left for the reader to explore for himself. It is a mystery story with a good thrill that will be enjoyed. The book is published by Murray. Another story to beguile odd hours is Phillips Oppenheim's "Jacob's Ladder" (Hodder and Stoughton). It tells how Jacob Pratt, from being an undischarged bankrupt became a millionaire, and what he did with his money. The crooks who beset Jacob are disposed of in a neat and humorous manner, and in the end the lucky millionaire marries an earl's daughter, quite in the happy-ever-after tradition.

CONCERT.

Last Night's Treat.

The Chamber of Commerce Room at the City Hall was packed last evening when Miss Anna El-Tour, Miss Vera Mirova, and Mr. Leo Podolsky gave their final concert, being assisted by Mr. Harry Ore. Mr. Van Taek and Professor Gonzalez. There could be no possible question as to the thorough enjoyment of all present, the heartiness of the reception accorded each item in the lengthy programme being eloquent of the high talents of all the artists.

Miss El-Tour again demonstrated her unique artistry as a concert vocalist and she was forced to oblige with encores notwithstanding the fact that her "billed" numbers totalled twelve songs. In dainty love songs we have yet to hear her better for Miss El-Tour brings a charm of her own into her work and succeeds in conveying the spirit of the composition to her listeners. Her association with Mr. Podolsky, Mr. Van Taek and Prof. Gonzalez in the cycle of Scotch songs (music by Beethoven) was a real musical treat.

Miss Vera Mirova, whose classic dancing has already been ranked with that of Isadora Duncan, was accorded an unmistakably enthusiastic reception for her Oriental dance, her caricature of a Russian Dance and the dance set to Dvorak's Humoresque.

Mr. Leo Podolsky, on whom a great deal of work fell, delighted his listeners with his pianoforte selections, all of which are deserving of separate and detailed mention. One of the most enjoyed items of the whole programme was the pianoforte duet by Mr. Podolsky and Mr. Harry Ore, this being a romance and variations by Grieg based on an old Norwegian ballad for two pianos.

In conclusion it can be said with honesty that it is a long time since Hongkong music lovers have had such a treat.

SNIPE GALORE.

Shooting in China.

Those of our local sportsmen who go out shooting over the week-ends, and who can be seen coming back from the New Territories with "bags" of more or less indifferent size, will possibly be envious when they read the following account of game shooting in China which appeared in Country Life of August 13th:—

"Yet another distinguished and interesting visitor to our shooting grounds must be recorded, viz. Dr. Shu Fan Lee, president of the Victoria Clay Pigeon Shooting Club, Hongkong. He describes his club as possibly the most cosmopolitan in the world, the number of nationalities represented in its membership fully reproducing Hongkong's proverbial all-embracingness. Keen as the energetic young doctor is in everything that concerns shooting, he reserves his greatest eloquence for the joys of game shooting in China. Snipe of the full variety are apparently as fat as a lump of dripping during October. The shooter walks along the causeways which supply a dry foothold in the marshes where and suchlike are produced, boys on either side splashing through mud and water and putting up snipe galore. The doctor has a favourite corner into which careful management concentrates the birds; and, when all is favourable, the only trouble is to load and fire as quickly as they rise. Partridges are, however, the leading game bird; they are dealt with in the same way, except that the boys on either side no longer indulge in mud-splashing. The birds rise at nice distance and are active fliers. In the rougher scrub-grown land the pheasant is encountered on its native heath. Here the beaters thrash the bushes with bamboo poles, a bag totalling three, or it may be six, rewarding the effort made. When worked with pointers they are more likely to run forward and rise, the bamboo method being found preferable in that it secures nice rises from the proportion that squat. Apparently, the greatest boom is that all shooting in China is free, the game belonging to those who have the energy to pursue it and bring it to bag. China is rather a long way to go to enjoy free shooting, but for those who find themselves there its fine sporting opportunities must be a great attraction."
